The Slaak Rotterdam, a Tribute Portfolio Hotel opened earlier this month.

The property is located within an architectural landmark that once housed a Dutch newspaper. As such, the building's history with print is reflected throughout the hotel's design.

The Slaak Rotterdam includes 74 guestrooms, decorated in a mix of greens and yellows accented by marble, wood and brass. A bronze bar is the centerpiece of the 1950s-influenced lobby. Executive guestrooms include private balconies, as do suites.

Didot34 is the hotel's restaurant and bar with an open kitchen. The hotel regularly hosts jazz nights and vinyl sessions.

"We're excited to further increase our footprint in the Netherlands," said Jennifer Connell, vice president of brand management and marketing, Tribute Portfolio. "Being the only hotel to open in Rotterdam this year gives us a platform to showcase the indie spirit of Tribute Portfolio while celebrating the unique personality of The Slaak Rotterdam that both travelers and locals alike will enjoy."

"We are thrilled to debut Tribute Portfolio in Rotterdam, a city brimming with creative characters who shape the city's reputation for innovation and constant renewal," added John Licence, vice president, premium and select brands, Europe, Marriott International. "This building has always played an important role in the city, and we're delighted to see it transformed into a Tribute Portfolio hotel and neighborhood hotspot."
